Cross-Cultural Management:
European, U.S. and Global Perspectives

Introduction

In an increasingly globalized and flat world, the ability of companies and individuals to be effective internationally has become a key ingredient for commercial and personal success. This course will develop the students' cross-cultural interpersonal skills and offer a hands-on learning experience that will greatly benefit them personally and professionally.

Course Description

The course introduces a way of thinking that will enable participants to function effectively in any culture, and in particular acquire experience dealing with the cultural differences in Italy and other European countries. It presents essential concepts of national and global culture and examines key differences in communication, facilitating the correct interpretation of a wide variety of cross-cultural situations and laying the foundation for necessary behavioral adaptations. Other important topics include working effectively in multi-cultural teams, cross-cultural negotiations, and international careers.

The course puts a strong emphasis on practical applications in real world business and professional situations. This practical dimension will be enhanced through exercises, videos, and visits to leading international companies and organizations.

Course Objectives

Upon the successful completion of this course, students will be able to:

1. Exhibit a high degree of cultural intelligence
2. Acquire a sharper understanding of their own culture and how it impacts their behavior in a multicultural setting
3. Interpret behavior, attitudes, and communication styles of people from different cultures correctly
4. Become familiarized with the key cultural characteristics in Italy and in other major European countries, and the most crucial differences among them
5. Use a repertoire of behavioral skills appropriate for different intercultural situations
6. Deal with ambiguity in an ever-changing and unpredictable context that results from the globalization of business and people
7. Exhibit a high degree of effectiveness when working in culturally diverse groups

Course Requirements

The course requires active student participation. Students are expected to read the assigned textbook chapters and other readings before every class. Punctual attendance is required. There will be a midterm exam, a final exam, a team project, and a final presentation. Each student is required to participate in professional visits and cultural visits, as well as the International IQ Seminar.

Teaching Procedures and Methodology

Teaching methods used in this course include lectures, discussions, assignments, and professional and cultural visits. Learning in this course requires the student's constructive participation and active involvement in both class discussions and small group discussions. The professional visits will expose the participants to different aspects of the class and will highlight the practical relevance of the concepts learned. Cultural visits enhance the students' understanding of the history and culture of the country.

Attendance Policy

Students are permitted to miss class only once, due to illness, injury, or another appropriate reason. Missing more than once may result in a letter grade deduction for every additional absence.

Participation in "Europe Today: An International IQ Seminar"

All students also attend Europe Today: An International IQ Seminar, a daily session conducted by the Program Director, Dr. Hugo Hervitz. In this seminar, students learn about Italian and European culture, gain an understanding of essential European geography and current events, discuss their experiences and cross-cultural interactions, get language tips, and identify ways to have an even more immersive study abroad experience. The material covered in the seminar complements the syllabus for this course, and there will be some exam questions based on the seminar. Participation in the International IQ Seminar is factored into the grade for this course.

Students will use what they learn in class as well as their own observations in personal and professional settings as they travel throughout Italy.

The manual should be about 15-20 pages long, double-spaced, size 12 font, and include a list of references used.
